

Leadership Development for Project Managers

Become a confident and inspiring leader able to think strategically and develop lasting relationships.

rics.org/leadershiptraining

This two day masterclass will help you develop the essential leadership and technical skills needed to become a more strategic-thinking and effective leader.

Leadership	Progress your career using the RICS Leadership Framework to develop your: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• 'Managing' to 'leading' skills• Self-awareness and insight into others• Communication style to achieve greater influence• Strategic thinking and ability to deal with uncertainty• Ability to lead a team to success
Account Management	Guarantee long-term business collaboration to the benefit of the client, your business and the progression of your own career. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Create meaningful and effective project briefs• Analyse project management systems and processes• Recognise the importance of effective reporting, governance and data presentation

Why invest?

For the individual:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Develop the skills to advance in your career• Differentiate yourself as a forward-thinking leader• Widen your influence• Learn vital strategies and tools that can be applied immediately• Build your professional network and gain valuable contacts
For the business:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Acquire new business through effective account management• Develop individuals who recognise and seek out new opportunities• Gain leaders able to influence both internally and externally• Acquire strategic thinkers who think long term and see the bigger picture, saving you time and money

Delivered by: Paul Wilson, Managing Director, Provelio and Sarah Smith, Senior Associate Consultant, Cegos

RICS Executive Education Programme also includes:

- International Certificate in Leadership for Property
- Leadership development for Facilities Managers
- Finance development for aspiring professionals
- Business Management for aspiring professionals

To book or for further information:

e leadershiptraining@rics.org t +44 [0]24 7686 8584 w rics.org/leadershiptraining