Experience & Qualifications

Tim is a senior consultancy professional with top level experience within the health, rail, education and leisure sectors. He is currently Project Director for the new research, education and clinical care centre at Moorfields Eye Hospital, delivered in partnership with UCL's Institute of Ophthalmology.

Tim has been equity partner at both Hornagold & Hills and Gardiner & Theobald. He has held the positions of Deputy Programme Director of London Underground PPP, and Development Manager of a new university campus next to the London Olympic Park. He has also led negotiations and achieved financial close on numerous PFI deals for UK hospitals.

Tim is especially interested in the value of people skills combined with technical skills, and sees both as being fundamentally important in project management. He is also very interested in the whole life cycle of projects and believes a holistic approach yields more sustainable change and real estate solutions.

In addition to being Chair of the RICS Professional Group Board for Project Management, Tim is a member of the Editorial Advisory Group for Construction Journal. He is also a member of the RICS PFI Round Table supporting HM Treasury review of PFI/PPP.

Tim is passionate about interaction with intelligent and committed people.
